

THE STORY OF NEGRONI

The fate of this beloved Cocktail began to unfold between 1919/20 in Florence, Italy. The drink was invented on Tornabuoni Street in the historical center of the city at the Bar Giacosa (previously known as Casoni). When Giacosa's bartender, Fosco Scarselli, alternated with his regular guest, the well known Florentine Count Camillo Negroni, the two began to light upon how to fortify the Count's favorite Aperitif – the »Americano«. After some experimenting, Scarselli decided to add Gin to the recipe. The resulting Cocktail delighted the Count. Fascinated by the new mixture, many guests became curious and began ordering »Count Negroni's« drink. As the requests for this new invention increased, the drink quickly became known simply as »Negroni«. Today the Negroni is the most appreciated Aperitif Cocktail throughout the World.

»THE DRINK IS COMPLEX;
IT IS POTENT, AND ITS ASSOCIATION
WITH ITALY LENDS IT
AN AIR OF SOPHISTICATION.«
Stephen Bayley

BRANDY

The word »Brandy« is derived from the Dutch word »Brandewijn«, meaning burned wine. It is in general a term used to describe a spirit distilled from wine. There are brandy varieties that are the distillations of other fruits than grapes. Produced in most countries where grapes are grown, only a brandy from the region of Cognac may carry the name »Cognac«.
